The SPRINGER took the chair at twenty-nine minutes pe ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS.

Mr. HOSKINS, in reply to Mr. Barbour, said that the preparation of the return of improvement purchases applied by Henry Ricketson on Kerrarberry, Curnallo, Devulasia, and Arstulla Stationa, and on Barstia Station, would receive inmediate attention. Mr. Broughton, of Muttama, and Arstulla Stationa, and on Barstia Station, would receive inmediate attention. Mr. Broughton, of Muttama, mids application to purchase portions of his run in extent up to the total allowed under clause 7, Alienation Act, is to the total quantity allowed had not been purchased. The area allowed, including 320 (20 acres being within the rillage reserve), did not exceed the total quantity allowed by law. He was not aware that large quantities of land held as pre-leases and forfeited previous to the passing of the Amending Act of 1875 paid no rent to the State, the fact lang that pre-leases forfaited previous to the passing of the Lands Act Amendment Act of 1875 had reverted, under the 19th section of that Act to the runs of which they formed part. It had never been the practice to put up forfaited pre-leases in the unsettled districts to sale by auction, sent if it had been the 19th clause of the Act above referred a would prohibit it.

Sir HENRY PARKES, in reply to Mr. Macintosh, and the question of disbanding the Volunteer Force under the eld regulations was under consideration, but it was not in a size on which he could give any definite information.

Mr. LACKEY, in reply to Mr. T. R. Smith, said the weighbridge at Parramatta Junction had been made available for weighing produce for suburban stations. Produce is Sydney was weighed at Darling Harbour. It was not pactoable at present to weight it at Parramatta Junction, no advantage would be gained by weighing hay at my contraction of the present on weight in proceeding with new nilway station buildings at Emu Plains was caused by the ifficulty of obtaining a site, for which negotiations were in progress.

CAUSES OF WRECK.

TO THE HEALD.

Sir.—In a conversation with Captain Anderson, referring to the passage of the s.s. Easby from Molbourne to Newcastle, he made some statements which had such a bearing on causes which may have caused the loss of the s.s. Kerangle, that I requested him to give me them in writing, which he did as fallows:

"The s.s. Easby left Melbourne, bound for Newcastle, on the sith instant; passed Wilson's Promontory about noon on the 9th, with light to write, and the passage of the care the state of the coast. The dulness of trade is a general topic in commercial circles, for the past week has been one of the slackest of the year in the Import markets. The retail trade buy sparingly, and holders are not over anxious to press sales unless where there is almost an absolute certainty. sparingly, and holders are not over anxious to press sales unless where there is almost an absolute certainty that the bills will be met on maturity. Breadstuffs have been dealt in very lightly, and so far as the season has gone, there have been very little imported from South Australia as compared with former years, whereas from Melbourne and our country districts the supplies have been larger than usual. There is no alteration to notice in prices. In building materials the advance in cement has been supported, and holders are asking 25a to 26a, for trade lines. Lumber has been again depressed by the arrival of three shipments of Oregon within the last two days. Candles are quiet at 23d to 33d for Jenar's, and 84d for good second brands. Dundee goods move slowly. Calcutta cornsacks quotable at 9s. 3d. to 9s. 6d. Fish is in fair trade request at late rates, except for salmon, of which a large quantity arrived today, partly on Melbourne account. For this port there are 4010 cases preserved, 708 barrels, 901 half barrels bulk, the latter coming to a bare market. Liquors have only had trade inquiry. First-class brands of bottled ale are scarce, and the bulk of what is to arrive within a month has changed hands at full rates; bulk ale in moderate supply, and prices firm. Brandies are steady at 9s. to 9s. 3d. for best bulk 38s to 88s. arrive within a month has changed hands at full rates; bulk ale in moderate supply, and prices firm. Brandies are steady at 9a to 9a. 3d. for best bulk, 33a to 38a. 6d. for Hennessy's case. Queensland rum is plentiful at 2a. 3d. For large contents geneva, 14a. 6d. is readily obtainable. Burnett's old tom, on the spot, is also scarce. Holders of metals have advanced their demands, and although these are not proportionate to the increased freights, buyers do not appear disposed to operate. Kerosens oil is in supply at 1s. 8½d. for Devoe's. Linssed quiet at late rates. Rice is steady and only moving in lots of a few tons. The sugar market is dull, and both colonnal and Mauritius sorts in heavier supply. The St. Idens. from Honskons. brought a supply. The St. Idens, from Hongkoug, brought a shipment of Foochoo teas, which are the last of the sesson. LATEST COMMERCIAL TELEGRAMS. (PROM OUR LONDON CORRESPONDENT.)

LONDON, FEB. 15. The bank minimum is unchanged. Money is be-coming source in the open market, owing to payments for revenue. Discount rates in the open market are stiffening. The accumulation of gold in the Bank of England continues. The reserve now amounts to £15,500,000. The stock markets are unsetto 215,000,000. The stock markets are unset-tied. Consols have been unfavourably affected by the disaster at the Cape. The market for Australian securities has suffered some-what in sympathy with other descriptions of stock. The New Zealand Agricultural Company, promoted by Sir Julius Vogel and Mr. Donald Larnach, was floated without difficulty, despite the opposition of the London Times. Of the first call for capital to the extent of half a willion 2000 000 her beautherided. half a million, £300,000 has been subscribed. The corr market is heavy and inactive. Adelaide wheat is scarce and superfine qualities are selling, ex store, per 496 lbs., at 48s. Adelaide wheat, ex ship, has been sold at 47s. Recent shipments of New Zealand wheat have been of inferior quality, and are solling, ex store, per 496 lbs., at 85s. to 44s. The metal market is unchanged.

FRENCH AFRICAN EXPEDITION.—The Geographical Society of Marwelles has received from Zantzbar, under date October 16, news of the Cantral African Expedition under the Abbé Debairs, which, as our readers know, set out not long ago from Zantibar by Bagamoyo. The news is satisfactory, and the journey has been accomplished with exceptional rapidity. No traveller has probably ever got over the ground between Bagamoyo and Unyanyembe so rapidly. An Arab named Abdallah, who arrived with his cursavan at Bagamoyo on October 12, met the Abbé Debaise at Mongoors, four stages from Givous-ia-Singa. (?) Abdallah said that M. Debaise is "a condari" (Parve); that his caravan marched in perfect good order; that he did not send back any letters, but only his salasms to his friends. The Arab thought the Abbé was bound to outstrip the Fathers of the Algerian Mission, who were four days journey before him. Abdallah had camped with the Fathers of the Mission. There were only eight of them then, one of them having died on the way, and another was buried at Givous-la-Singa. The remaining eight were in good spirits. The natives had stolen a lot of things from them, and their soldier escort wished to fire at the thieves, but the Fathers hindswed them, telling them to leave the natives alone, "poor devila." That were rethen bedly off for provisions. FRENCH AFRICAN EXPEDITION.—The Geogra

The Sydney Morning Merald.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1879.

Mr. W. Surroz moved the second reading of the Contractors' Debts Bill. Workmen could not be obtained on many sections of the Government railways now under construction, and on private contracts, because the contractor was a man of straw, not worth suing at law. The bill was similar to what was now the law of Victoria and New Zealand. He thought the bill was its own vindication, and he becomed to move the second reading without further servers.

the bill was crudely drawn, and might be advantaged superseded by a bill of a couple of simple classes. Mr. Huromarous felt that something of the char-of this bill was called for, but this measure was too

Mr. Macentous would vote for the bill, and thought sixty days a sufficiently liberal limit.

Mr. LACKET said almost everybody was in favour of the Mr. Lacker said almost everybody was in favour of the inciple of this bill, but so there were two or three clauses principle of this bill, but as there were two or three cleanes exquiring careful consideration he trusted the mover would be consisted to go into committee gere formed.

Mr. Barnoun and the Government of this colony paid wages mouthly, and in Victoria fortnightly. Short accounts made long friends, and he preferred the shorter. He approved of the bill, which would secure the description of labour.

mt of labour. Mr. W. DAVIES also approved the principle of the bills, but pointed to several clauses in proof that it needed fulles onsideration.

Mr. PILCHER had some amendments to propose in inities, and therefore hoped the bill would be on mittee, and therefore hoped the bill would be committed only pro formd.

The second reading was agreed to, the bill committed, the preamble postponed, progress reported, and leave asked and obtained to all again on the 16th of March.

On the motion of Mr. LYNCH, the Orange Town Hall little was read a second time, passed through all its stages in committee, reported to the House, and the third reading appointed for next Wednesday.

On the motion of Mr. Mackwrosz, the committee was resumed on the Patent Bill. After debate by Mesera Macintonia and Winderen, further procedure was post-MACINYOSE and WINDSTEE, further procedure was post-poned on the understanding that the Attorney-General would deal with the matter. Mr. Darvers moved the second reading of the Banh Liabilities and Assets Publication Act Extension BCl. The motion was agreed to, the bill committed, elightly amended, reported, and the third reading appointed for Wednesday next.

Mr. Conum wished to correct a report of his speech is he Evening Noice of that day.
Sir HENRY PARKES said as the private busin got through, he wished to go on with the Sydney Corporation sul.

The committee, therefore, was resumed at the proposed new clause 99, dealing with the wheel-tax.

Mr. Fittpataick repeated his objections to this form of Sir Hanny Parkes admitted that there were obje this form of direct taxation, but the streets must be kept in repair, and the truffic which caused this necessity should meet the cost.

Mr. J. Davies held that if there were a wheel-tax, it should be a uniform rate of so much per wheel. He doubted if the clause, as drawn, would be operative, even if passed, and it would not reach the suburban traffic, which cut up the streets as much as the city traffic.

Mr. Greenwood pointed out what seemed to him absundities in the clause of the schedule, and repeated his conviction that a tax on traffic should apply to the whole colony in some form of internal or local taxation.

Mr. Macintroen did not think there was any fairer tax than this. He gave some statistics to show the amount of Mr. MACHTOSH did not think there was any fairer tan than this. He gave some statistics to show the amount of traffic and the yield of the tan.

After further debate by Mr. CHARLES and Sir HENEY PARKES, the clause was negatived without division.

Sir Wigham Allen moved the new clause 206, of which he had given notice, to the effect that sawage should not be conveyed into any law agreement. conveyed into any bay, stream, or was seing deprived of noxious matter.

Deing deprived of nozious matter.

After debate by Sir Wignam Allen, Sir Henry Parkes, Messrs. Rosery, Macintoni, Lucas, and Charles, the clause was agreed to without division.

Upon the promise of Sir Henry Parkes to have the bill printed as amended for future consideration, a new claus was proposed to stand 188 of the bill, providing for the salund slaughter of pigs, calves, and sheep within the city.

After debate by Sir HENRY PARKES, Mesers. CHARLES. MACINTOSE, HOSKINS, BADGERT, ROSERY, and W. DAVIES, the clause was amended and agreed to.

On the motion of Sir Henry Parkes, schedule G was

The bill was reported with amendments, and the adoptio of the report made an Order of the Day for Thursday. The House adjourned at mineteen minutes before 9 until 4 o'clock on Wednesday.

The Assembly did well to abstain from coming to any decision on the western extension of the Southern railway, under the guid-ance of a private member. The matter has excited a great deal of interest in the district, where, as is natural enough, local feeling predominates. There are townships which want to concentrate traffic in their own quarter, and there are, as Mr. LACKER pointed out, squatters who want the railway to give them a wide berth. What between those who want the railway "agin their own place," and those who want to shunt it away, the Government has been pretty well badgered. It is not right, how-ever, that the Assembly should be led by any particular section. It is for the Government to weigh the whole matter in the light of the public interest, and then to present, with the evidence in its support, the scheme which seems the most truly national, and for which national funds may be fitly voted.

The WINES of this vineyard, which are unsurpassed in quality and have taken many prizes, can be obtained from all winality a Two of the reasons urged by Mr. BARBOUR in support of the policy he patronises certainly could not be accepted by any assembly of sen-sible men. He argued that the South Murrumbidgee line could not assist in diverting there would be a gap of from fifty to sixty miles between the proposed line and Denili-quin. But how long will that gap last, and what will be the effect when it is filled in f In these days of rapid railway extension, it does not require much foresight to know that all centres of traffic will get connected. It is simply absurd to suppose that the Deniliquin line will always stop at its present terminus. It is all very well for an hon. member to say that he would not do it, but hon. members are very poor creatures compared with those irresistible forces which control events. There were hon members who said that Victoria should never make a line from Echuca to Deniliquin, but they have done it. There are others who say that the line shall have no northern exten sions or connections. Any one who plans a railway policy in the south-west, on the presumption that there are to be no lines in the future but such as he approves of in the present, plans presumptuously and foolishly The second piece of information furnished by Mr. Barnous, and on the strength of which he wished the House to legislate, was that the line would not be taken further than Hay for the next hundred years at least. Mr. Bas-BOUR's mission is clearly not that of a prophet. If there is one thing more certain than a it is that the great Australian capitals will be connected by railways, and the extension beyond Hay will be the shortest line from Sydney to Adelaide. Everyone agrees that the line should be made as far as Hay. The In the Legislative Assembly, yesterday, Questions were saked by Mesers. Barbotz, Dangas, Macintosis, Camerox, Clarke, and Hurley (H.), and answered by Ministers.

On the motion of Sir Henry Parkes, it was agreed that the House at its rising should adjourn until Wednesday.
Mr. W. Sutton moved the second reading of the Contractors' Debts Bill. Workmen could not be obtained on tractors' Debts Bill. Workmen could not be obtained on district have been practically cut off from metropolis, by district have been practically cut off from communication with their own metropolis, by reason of their distance. It would be somonstrous absurdity to have a railway from begged to move the second reading without further ex- Sydney to Hay and not extend it to the Darling. Altogether, irrespective of the chance of bringing traffic to Sydney, political and social reasons would make planation.

Mr. Cameron was in favour of the principle of the bill, but hoped the mover would go into covamittee that night only pre forms. The second clause limited the claim of a workman to sixty days, and that was an injustice to workman to sixty days, and that was an injustice to workman to sixty days, and that was an injustice to workman to sixty days, and that was an injustice to workman to sixty days, and that was an injustice to workman to sixty days, and that was an injustice to work a limit the right of suing to sixty days? he level plains the cost of such a connection would be at the minimum. From the Darling to the South Australian border is not a long purney, and though the country is poor the lians have already connected Adelaide with waite prepared to continue their line to meet he north-west bend of the Murray, and are peady to join hands. When that work is completed all our mails from England will be completed all our mails from England will be landed at Glenelg, and will be in Sydney in about forty-eight hours afterwards. We have just seen how the near completion of the silroad between Sydney and Melbourne has ertially expedited the delivery of the English sail by a day and a half; and the communi-cation of Sydney with Holdfast Bay, which is now practically the first and last port for he mails, will make a similar difference.

Victoria has touched her northern frontier at two points-Echuca and Albury, and both ints will sooner or later be with the New South Wales system. It is probable that there will be a line some from Wagga to Deniliquin, down the Yanko Creek. Such a line might have been made for nothing if the policy of railway reserves had been adopted. But though the land has been improvidently alienated, the local traffic, the cheapness of the line, and the connections it will make, will justify it. So far as the connection between Sydney and Hay is concerned, the weight of argument appears to be in favour of the directest route The fact that Sydney is far from our western country makes it desirable that, cateris paribus our railways to that, side of the colony should be as direct as possible. If we are to fight for our Western trade, we need not handicar curselves in the contest by making our lines unnecessarily tortuous, or 'by bending them south, go out of our way to give a special dvantage to our competitors.

It must be some salve to the self-love of Mr It must be some salve to the self-love of Mr. Comen to be told that the late Ministry was not surned out on the ground of its financial policy, and that in proof of that the incoming Government has done him the honour to adopt substantially his estimates and his general policy. It would, perhaps, have been more comforting to him if these assurances had been given after the delivery of his own financial speech than after that of his sucassurances had been given after the delivery of his own financial speech than after that of his successor. On the first occasion it certainly did not look as if the gentlemen then in opposition were disposed cordially to support Mr. Cohrn, but perhaps they meant it in their secret hearts, and were misunderstood simply from the rough way they adopted of showing their affection. It is certainly true, however, as a matter of fact that it was the land policy of the late Ministry that appet them, and that their policy was financially a dangerous one. It is not much to the purpose for them to reply that if they perilled the revenue from interest on unpaid balances, they were going to get an equivalent in the increased tent from squatters. There is no reason in throwing up one right simply in order to get another. Moreover, there is some ground for suspecting that they might have dropped the substance for the sheden. The income from interest on balances is a precent solid asset; that from increased pustoral reass was further and readers. colid asset; that from increased pastoral relies was

The war between the natives of New Calpho is and the French colonists has well night apoint resul-but the causes of the outbreak have yet to be accur-with. Throughout this struggle public ayangaring in these colonies has naturally been on the side of nists. The issue, however, has shown that there has not been justification there has been smple excuse for the native revolt. There is no principle that lies deeper in savage races than that of revenge, and of this the history of the Bouth Seas has furnished abundant evidence. It is too soon to say that the French It is too soon to say that the French suthorities are themselves responsible for the rising of the natives in New Caledonia, but from e information which has reached us it is clear at that rising has been to no small extent cited by unscrupulous and meddlesome reach colonists. Our correspondent has told French colonists. Our correspondent has told us that the natives have been robbed, insulted, and injured at will; that forced labour gangs have been demanded by the Government from the chiefs; that the cattle of the colonists have been allowed to make inroads upon the plantations of the natives; and that the reserves of the latter have been trespassed upon in a systematic and grossly unjust manner. We are told that the atrocities of ATAI, by whom the tising was commenced, were instigated by the rising was commenced, were instigated by the succession of LACARTE, and that the first outbreak of native treachery took place on the very site of the villainies and robberies of this unscrupulous Frenchman. If this be the case—much as we may condemn the natives—we are bound to con-clude that the colonists of New Caledonia have themselves or their brethren to thank for the rising which has given them so much trouble. The mildness of the English policy towards native races in various parts of the world has often been made a subject for criticism and censure, but it becomes increasingly apparent that the philanthropic treatment of aboriginal races is, wherever it is rendered possible, the only successful one. The French authorities have held an inquiry into the causes which have led to the New Caldonia revolt, but up to the present the result of this inquiry has been kept secret. It seems to be sufficiently well known, however, that vite as the strectites of the Canaques have been there is much sufficiently well known, nowever, that the as the atrocities of the Canaques have been, there is much to be said in extenuation. The latest chapter in New Caledonian history plainly shows that the French have much to learn before they are likely to become successful colonizers in the South Seas.

WE learn that the Department of Public Works are we learn that the Department of Public Works are making every possible arrangement to go on as speedily as possible with the temporary transway for the socommodation of visitors to the Exhibition, from the present railway terminus at Redfern along Elizabeth-street to Hunter-street. It is expected that the motors will have to be procured from America, but the rails and other material, it is expected, can be supplied in the colony. THE Hon. Saul Samuel, who was to have laid the foundation-stone of the School of Arts, at Wallsend, yesterday, was, we regret to hear, prevented from leaving Sydney on Thursday night, through ill health.

THE Exhibition Commission met yesterday afternoon at the offices, Macquarie-street, his Excellency the Governor presiding. The Executive Commissioner's and other business, principally of a formal nature, was transacted. Mr. Merriman did not proceed with his motion in reference to hotel accommodation, as he understood that hotel proprietors in the city were making extensive efforts to provide for the requirements of visitors during Exhibition time.

THE first of the hundred or so of documents in con-Tax first of the hundred or so of documents in connection with the Sydney Exhibition has come to hand in the form of a classification schedule, very neatly printed by Gibbs, Shallard, and Co., of 108, Pitt-street. It gives a list of the commissioners and of the different committees, a short address upon the objects of the Exhibition, the regulations, and the system of classification. There are seven departments, made up of 724 classes, this system being framed on that used at the Philadelphia Exhibition. It is intended rather to indicate the objects required for exhibition, and to facilitate the work of the judges, than to prescribe the arrangement of jects required for exhibition, and to ractificate the work of the judges, than to prescribe the arrangement of them in the building. A careful synopsis of the classi-fication has also been prepared, and will be found re-markably useful. The schedule, which is in pamphlet form, is a credit to its author and publishers. A special meeting of the Board of Directors of th A special meeting of the Board of Directors of the Sydney Infirmary, called at the instance of the honorary Medical Staff, was held on Wednesday, in Macquarie-street, for the purpose of reconsidering the report of a sub-committee appointed to investigate the desirability or otherwise of establishing a department for the exclusive treatment of diseases of the eye, ear, and throat. The discussion was protracted and extensely enimated, and ultimately terminated in the passing of a resolution that the arrange-ments previously determined on by the sub-committee, and for which funds have been provided by Parliament, should be at once carried out subject to conditions con-tain d or implied in future legislation. Dr. Ceell Morrant was appointed senior, and Dr. Belgrave junior, medical object to the department. Though not completely pre-pared the in-patient ophthalmic ward is already full; and it is expected when the out-patient ophthalmic de-partment is fully organized it will be largely availed of by sufferers from sand-blight—a disease easily curable in its early stage by skilled treatment, but which, neglected, often terminates in complete blindness, of which our asylums and streets afford but too frequent sydence.

the regulations were not an interference with the right of the people to hold public meetings, but simply an effort made, wisely or not, by the trustees to preserve the parks for the use of all sections of the people. With regard to public meetings, all the regulations did was to require the persons wishing to hold a public meeting on the park to obtain permission. He could not at all see that the regulations were open to the severe condemnation passed upon them; but he promised to bring the matter before the Minister of the Crown more particularly concerned with it (the Lands Minister), and afterwards before the Cabinet; and if the Cabinet thought the Government ought to interfere with the action of the trustees with regard to the regulations, he action of the trustees with regard to the regulations, he would not stand in the way of its being done.

A MERTINO, the object of which is regarded of vital importance to butchers, was held on Thursday night at the rooms of the ascentistion, Temperance Hall, to consider what steps should be taken to protest against those clauses of the Corporation Bill now before the Assembly which were introduced and passed at the instance of Mr. R. Driver, and which, it was alleged, would restrict the butchers' business to a very great extent. Mr. H. Wilson occupied the chair, and explained that if these clauses met with the concurrence of Parliament they would not only injure the retail butchers of the city, but would also throw the whole trade in small stock, such as calves, throw the whole trade in small stock, such as calve lambs, &c., into the hands of a few large desires, creating by this means a menopoly of the worst description and injuring the producer in a worse degree by the consequent absence of a necessary competition. After some conversation, in which the conduct of those gentlemen connected with the trade who have seats in the House, and who allowed those objectionable clauses to pass without comment, was adversely criticised, it was finally resolved that a public meeting be held next Wednesday evening, to protest against those clause becoming law. The meeting terminated in the usus

YESTERDAY we were shown by Mr. Thomas Richard Covernment printer, the first volume of the new edition of the Public Statutes of the colony, upon which Mr. Oliver, the Parliamentary draftsman, has for a long time been engaged. The work, when completed, will embrace three volumes royal 8vo. Judging from the appearance and arrangement of vol. 1, which takes the statute law down to the file "Lutines of the takes the statute law down to the title "Justices of the Peace," the collection evinces great judgment and elaboration on the part of the editor, and equal care and good workmanship on the part of the Government Printing Office. The type is clear and bold, the prin ing very level, and the general appearance indicate not only a valuable law book for the legal profession but an equally valuable work of reference for the lay inquirer. The publication of the work will necessarily be somewhat delayed in order to embody the pending legislation, some of which is of very great import ance, and will concern vast numbers of persons and very large interests in the community. There is, how every every represent of the work being completed in the ever, every prospect of the work being completed in the course of three or four months, or even some, if the session be quickly brought to a close. One feature of special interest in reference to the binding of Volume deserves notice. Instead of calf, kangaroo skin is the material used. The biennial meeting in connection with the Cirand United Order of Oddfellows took place during the past week when the representatives from the various districts and branches assembled. The report of the retiring officers was presented, and is satisfactory and encouraging to its members. It shows that steady progress has been made during the past two years, tweive new branches having been opened during that periodsall of which are in a healthy and prosperous position. The order under the control of the sub-committee of management consists of four districts, two neutral lodges, numbering in all seventy-two branches. The financial members on the rolls are about 3400, and their total funds upwords of £15,500, besides other assets of considerable value. The retiring officers, J. A. M'Culbben, G.M. and A. L. "The Mystary of Edwin Drood" was for the last time at present solved at the Theatre Royal last night, and this evaning will be replaced by "Jo" a dramatisation of the Lady Dedicek spisade in Bleak House. "The Roesebud" will assume the character of the little street boy, a role for which her physique eminently fits her.

The loves of the Second Aladdin and Princess Velouting were unfolded to a large audience at the Victoria Theatre, and repeated performances have given the singers the proficiency many of them lacked on the first night. Pretty songs abound, and the prefitiest of all is the song of the Genie, for which Mr. Florence obtained, as usual, an encore. Aladdin's songs were nicely given, and so were Velontine's, but still there was a lack of that verve and arch carnestness which makes opera bouffe so attractive. The Tycon and the Ramachysnes sing funnily, if not well, and essen to fulfil thoroughly their mission which is to amuse. Miss Edwin, as coquettiah Caramel, has got a part that suits her; and the beautiful song in the last act was capitally sung. Bland Holt as usual was a host in himself, and the choruses were fairly given.

At the Queen's, Miss Willis played "Leah" on the cocasion of har benefit, which was a benefit in fact as well as in name, for the attendance was large. Her impersonation of the wronged Jewess is very creditable, and at time starting in its earnestness, but she does not in the earlier some indicate cles by enough the possibility of intense revenged in the metrying Leah's love for Rudolph. Still the lady has talent enough to enable her by thoughful andy to make her reading one commendable to every dramtic student. Mr. St. Laurence was an insipid Rudolph, and Miss Regers a pleasant looking Madelline, with a habit or apaking far too quickly. Nathan by Mr. Booth, and Dr. Laudwig by Mr. Heads were good performances. To-night Mr. Boudounle's Shaughraun will be produced, and Mr. Keogh will not the part of Com.

OUR AMERICAN LETTER.

NEW YORK, JAN. 19. We are now in the midst of an "old-fashioned' winter, that is to say, we have just had the severest storm and the coldest weather we have known for nine years past. It is not easy to call up before the mind of dweller in Australia Felix all that this involves. Ice and snow are for us to be counted among the many palamities occasionally meted out to the human race by the blind malice of nature. It would be hard indeed to make even a rough guess at the number of unhappy persons who have within the past ten days suffered other death or mutilation by reason of exposure to the weather. You can scarcely pick up a country paper in any section of the north or north-west without meeting a paragraph chronicling some such casualty, and all the great cities scores and hundreds of destitute and aged persons have perished directly from this cause without anyone taking any particular notice of it. The pecuniary losses created by this sessonable" infliction have been enormous. Communication between some parts of the country has been interrupted for days together. The New York Central, the Erie, and the Lake Shore roads—three great trunk Hear have succeeded by the most persistent and costly efforts in keeping their tracks open for passenger trains, but they have had to submit to the temporary stoppage of freight trains. On the Lake Shore road alone eight thousand men were kept at work for three days shoveling of the anow. The ferries from New York to thousand men were kept at work for three days aboveling off the anow. The ferries from New York to Brooklyn and Jersey city have also kept running only with extreme difficulty, and on the latter line one of the night boats was shut in by the ice and frosen tight and hard, the passengers remaining aboard until daylight mabled them to pick their way ashore on foot over the loa. A passage to Brooklyn over the East River—only half a mile in length—has taken frequently three hours, and the unhappy passengers have had the additional misery of keeping constantly in sight the measive pillars of the bridge, which, after having swallowed up sight millions of dollars and many lives, remains still less than half finished. At Albany, the organisation of the Legislature was postponed, because so many members of the Republican majority were snow-bound that the caucus was unable to decide who were the real shoice of the party for Speaker and clerk. Many of the foreign ocean steamers have been frozen into their docks, and have only been extricated in time to leave at the target of Atlanta, Georgia, have had the opportunity to gather in a store of ice. It is upon the farmers, however, that the weather has borne hardest. In spite of every care and precoution, stock have pershed in large numbers, either directly from the cold or from diseases superinduced by it. There are, of course, extraordinary losses, and to them must be added the usual and anticipated expenses of feeding live stock during the three or four months of midwinter. To the faamer in more favoured latitudes, laded, the amount of labour and expense of feeding live stock during the three or four months of midwinter. To the faamer in more favoured latitudes, laded, the amount of labour and expense of feeding live stock during the three or four months of midwinter. To the faamer in more favoured latitudes, laded, the amount of labour and expense involved by a severe season would appear almost incredible. Of fourse there are corresponding advantages. Few milignant diseas

The greatest event in American history since the The greatest event in American history since the Emancipation Proclamation has just been consummated without even the faintest ripple of disturbance. I refer of course to the successful resumption of specie payments by the United States Treasury. It had been feared that a certain clique of took operators would make a desperate effort to smbarass the Government and shake public confidence, and thus depress stocks and resp an immense harvest. But the banks of New York determined to stand shoulder to shoulder and support the Secretary at all operators would make a desperate effort to the properators would make a desperate effort to track the Government and shake public confidence, has depress stocks and resp an immess harsens have been to be smort the first favouries, I have been too bright to make satisfactory be a depressed on the first favouries, I have been too bright to make satisfactory be a depressed on the first favouries, I have been too bright to make satisfactory be a description of the satisfactory and the first favouries, I have been too bright to make satisfactory be a description of the satisfactory between the control of the satisfactory and the first favouries, I have been too bright to make satisfactory be a description of the satisfactory between the control of the satisfactory between the sati set. But the banks of New York determined to stand houlder to shoulder and support the Secretary at all basards, and without the help of at least a portion of the banks, success in such an operation was hopeless. The suspected speculators, therefore, changed front at the last moment, and Jay Gould himself is reported to have stated that he was "too loyal an American to bas his country." Great preparations had been made against a sudden run upon the Treasury. Only three hundred and fifty millions of dermand notes were custuading, and over one-third of these were in the walts of the banks, who pledged themselves not to resent them for redemption until the strain upon hom rendered such a step unavoidable. To meet resible demands, the Secretary had amsseed in the Instanry vaults over two hundred millions in specie. Thanks to the wide circulation given to these facts, the lay of resumption passed by not only without the Government losing any of its gold, but with a positive gain of 500,000 dollars in coin. The innate frailty of sin of $00,000 dollars in coin. The innate frailty of numan nature again asserted itself. When people could not get gold they all wanted it, and wasted much whalls breath in abusing "rag money" not alone because it was inconvertible, and therefore, to a greater recause it was inconvertices, and therefore, to a greater or less extent, worth less than its face, but also on the more fanciful grounds that it grew very dirty, and might possibly be the medium for the circulation of that a man lost the sense of pecuniary perspective, and scarcely realized that a single hundred-dollar bill was bome wiseacres have even ascribed the extravagance which has undoubtedly marked the age of paper money to this latter very curious cause. But now that gold and be had for the asking, men ask as a favour that they may be paid in bills, avowing that they always said about from reservation to roservation until they were at that that was the most convenient form of money. Thoughtful people, however, are very glad that we have the care to encroach upon their domains.

of hopsfulness and confidence in every branch of industry. Real estate is certainly on the hyperat tack, lagitimats drams. The poor Count is the father of the late Avonia Jones, and has been for years one of the late Avonia Jones, and has been for years one of the world-famed Erie, which has probably cost English capitalists many times its original cost, has really a million of dollars, which was really a million of dollars. North-West, which was selling at 11 dollars a share only a year and a half ago, and which has cost the Hollanders almost as much as Erie has cost Englishmen, has risen above 50 dollars, and has paid a dividend of 5 per cent, for the past yeer. The New York Central, the Lake Shore and the Michigan Central roads also pay handsome dividends. It is in the manufacturing centres, however, that the increase of confidence is most marked. The "hard times" have at least had the good effect of making living in America a little cheaper than it ever was before, and before the war it was not by any means a dear country. This has brought down the rate of the state of the New York public. His weakness is late Avonia Jones, and has been for years one of the late Avonia Jones, and has been for years one of the late Avonia Jones, and has been for years one of the late Avonia Jones, and has been for years one of the late Avonia Jones, and has been for years one of the late Avonia Jones, and has been for years one of the late Avonia Jones, and has been for years one of the late Avonia Jones, and has been for years one of the late Avonia Jones, and has been for years one of the late Avonia Jones, and has been for years one of the late Avonia Jones, and has been for years one of the late Avonia Jones, and has been for years one of the late Avonia Jones, and has been for years one of the late Avonia Jones, and has been for years one of the late Avonia Jones, and has been for years one of the late Avonia Jones, and has been for years one of the late Avonia Jones, and has been for years one of the late Avonia Jones, making living in America a little cheaper than it ever was before, and before the war it was not by any means a dear country. and its successor is so evenly divided that extreme party legislation will not be possible. The administra-tion of Mr. Hayes has ceased to interest either party particularly, and as it never ventures to stir from the regular path of official routine, it does nothing to compal notice. In the absence of more immediate topics of speculation, politicians are discussing that dernier ressort of the American intellect—the one eternal riddle that is solved only to recur again—"Who will be the next President?" But, beyond saying that Grant and Tilden and Bayard and Blaine and Hendricks

Thoughtful people, however, are very glad that we have schiaved this long-hoped for result with such compartitivessas. Horace Greeley said "the only way to rement instead of hoarding gold would pay it out as fast as it got it to any one who presented a legal tender, not people would get tired of making the exchange, The result was, of course, that after a few months of akirmishing they surrendered on a promise that their grievances should be considered by the "Big Father" at Washington, and perhaps something done for them, to people would get tired of making the exchange, The result was, of course, that after a few weeks parley that preserve and the resulting of the result was, of course, that after a few weeks parley that the resulting of the ment instead of hearding gold would pay it out as fast at it got it to any one who presented a legal tender, to be people would get tired of making the exchange, and the premium on gold would disappear. But sithough the success of the present attempt at resumption leads many people to believe that he was right, and that wa might just as well have resumed when we had only a hundred millions in the Treasury or less, it is treated by the present attempt at resumption and then the miserable creatures broke out from the fort in which they were confined, also four soldiers with a few revolvers that they had contrived to conceal, and were pursued reserve that they had contrived to conceal, and were pursued to contain that the Government has been wise in ty certain that the Government has been wise in lastening slowly." A failure, such as marked the steempt of the English Government to resume mountains less than half a dozen miles away. Thus,

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—It will, perhaps, be remembered that on the lat

November last a note was communicated by me to the Royal Society of New South Wales on a remfirkable conjunction of the planets Mars and Saturn, to take place on the last July of the current year. It happens that the same pheromenon engaged the attention of the Astronomer Royal, as will appear from the following account of a discussion at the Royal Astronomical Society: meeting in December last.

The account is taken from the Observatory for January

last, and will, doubtless, be interesting to your astronomical

much smaller. I think that Saturn at this time would be in quadrature, and the tabular error would most likely be about 10 secs., not 20 secs.

"Mr. Marth: On the lat January, 1890, 22 secs. will be the error in heliocentric longitude, and Saturn is them near quadrature. I do not know whether the error increases or decreases. I have nothing to go by except the difference between the Nautical Almenac place as computed from Bouward's and as computed from Loverrier's tables, and I assume, of course, that Leverrier is right.

"Mr. Gill: When I was at Ascension, I had the good fortune to observe, under circumstances which no European observer could ever enjoy, the conjunction of Mars and Saturn, and I observed it heliometrically, so that, for the two days praceding and the two days following the day of conjunction, I had accurate measures. In addition to that I had the advantage of seeing the planets, not only within a few minutes of each other, but actually aids by side. The two planets were of the red and green colours referred to by the Astronomer Royal, and these were brought out in remarkable contrast. I had to diminish the brilliancy of Mars by using a wire screen placed over the segment of the object glass through which the light of Mars passed, otherwise it would have been too bright to make satisfactory measures.

"The President: Do you think that the green colour of wise it would have been too bright to measures.

"The President: Do you think that the green colour of Saturn was due in any considerable degree to contrast with the yellow of Mars?

"Mr. Gill: It was to some extent. When you shut out Mars you did not see the green colour so very marked.

"Mr. Neison: There is a helicoemtric error of Mars in longitude, and, if I understand it rightly, it is only about 24 sees., whereas the perullax would be about 5 sees.

"Mr. Gill: The parallax has nothing to do with the helicoentric error.

OUR BRISBANE LETTER.

BRISBANE, Pan. 15.

Volunteering matters, on the principle may be that it never rains but it pours, have been prominent in Bris-bane of lats. The visit of Colonel Scratchley is, doubtless, in a great measure answerable for this. If it should also tend to restere united working amongst the corps, and allence the talk we have had about the resignation of officers, the force at large will have reason to be grateful. The Volunteers, to the number of about 600, had a field-day last Saturday afternoon, and had their first practical experience of a sham fight near Brisbane. Considering the few opportunities they have enjoyed of fieldwork they acquitted themselves the praise which is too often given and received as a matter of course by the retirement of Sir W. Macarbur and Mr. J. Russell. Letter from the Colonial Secretary notice. Exhibition, had been seat to various countries in the reviewing officer. These latter recommendations will be certainly popular amongst the Volunteers, and will secure the retention of probably all the officers who were on the point of resigning. On the whole, considering the support refused by the Legislature, the report is favourable to the Volunteers, and given warm praise to Lieuienant-Colonel Macdonnell for his twelve years loyal service to the Queensland Volunteer force. Major Moore, who is about to be promoted to a captaincy in the Tipperary Militia Artillery, is also praised.

A concet has been given in aid of the families of the two artillerymen who were killed by the gunacident in the day of the opening of Parliament. While on Volunteer subjects, I may add a supplementary senting on the subject of the two artillerymen who were killed by the gunacident in the day of the opening of Parliament. While on Volunteer subjects, I may add a supplementary senting on the subject of the two artillerymen who were killed by the gunacident in the private of the time respecting that accident. The guns at the saluting battery having been always spoken of by the public actor unservicable to be used with asfety, and denounced in Parliament as positively dangerous, casts were taken of the interior of the gun by which the men were killed, and the gentleman who took them (a local surgical instrument maker) stated at the inquiry at the police office, that in his opinion it was, though nearly a hundred years old, a serviceable gun, and that, though "rough with rust," it was not honeyombed. The cause of the accident, it may be added, was not laid to any living persons, nor was blame, that I am aware of, ever attributed to them. The evidence

The evidence given ought at any rate to remove the widespread apprehension which has long prevailed in Brisbane that the Volunteers firing the salutes were engaged in a service of risk.

The Queensland Press, with one accord, denounced the scene at the Sydney cricket match as altogethers and significant of the committee on live Stock, brought up a report, recommending that Mr. J. N. Palmer is the wrong man to allow such a charge to slumber, and he at once caused inquires to be made by a properly appointed body, which sat on board the Ceara, labour schooner. The boxes of the "boys" were examined, and the articles purchased by them as "trade" were catalogued, and fairly priced. The poor fellows were found to have been swindled wholesale.

Li, for example, was charged them for a dozen boxes of matches, and the same amount for a crown's worth of clay pipes. Most of these extortions were made in a northern port. The offence is the more grose, because the Kanaka, as we kname him to so the same amount for so crown's worth as northern port. aforming them of the appointment of this Royal Commission.
"In order to expedite business I have thought it advisable to address a memorandum to the various committees requesting them to hand all reports intended for the final adoption of the Commission on Fridays to the Secretary on the Tuesday previous, so that time may be allowed for printing and circulation.
"The appointment of Commissioners in the United States will tend to facilitate very much the work connected with the collecting and transmission of American exhibits, and the letter now hald before the Commission is an earnest of the feeling and wishes of many citizens of the great Republic to have their country well and worthily represented here and at Melbourne."

CAUTION TO PURCHASERS.

The value of this well-known Family Medicine has been largely tested in all parts of the world, and by all grades of cociety, for upwards of virry years. Its well-earned extensive sale has induced synthesis with artifactors, some of which in outwarn APPRARANCE so closely rescuble the original as to have deceived many purchasers. The proprietor, therefore, feels it due to the public to give a special caution against the use of such initiations. Furchasers are therefore requested carefully to observe the four following distinctive characteristics, without which none are genuine: genutic-genutic-1. In every case the words JOHN STEEDMAN, Chemist, Lader and Generally—I beg to thank you most einerely for the kind sectioner you have remdered me during the past these years, in eacrying on with seasons the besience of the Boyal Formishing Arrade.

I desire now, after forty years of very active business life, to RETIRE in favour of my 50NS.

Business has lately assumed such extraordinary phases that I feel un willing to exhaust my remaining health in endeavouring to keep pace with its vagaries. Health and peace, even if with only a crust, are in my humble opinion preferable to wealth if ascompanied with utter protration of body and mind. Venturing to hope that this business under the conduct of my sons, may continue to deserve and to receive your kindly constemnate and support. TARLISHED ON THE MUTUAL PRINCIPLE. CRAINANI

A GOLDEN RULE.—" Never be without JOSEPH-SON'S AUSTRALIAN CHATMENT." proaching season of the International Exhibition, which spirmber next, has provoked the inquiry. "What she our visitors?" and it may well create an anxiety in our provide for the temporary accommodation of the crown in least the seasons are to the metropolis on this occasive to which sould entail a public calamity, the ful which is searcely realisticle until the consequences at attent of which is searcely realistible until the consequences are full upon us.

The promoters, recognising the force of the emergency have fossed this scheme, in full confidence that it will be well received and supported by the public; and deeming the occasion one of individual interest as well as of national import, have though it appellent to construct it so as to afford every member of the community, rich and poor, old and young, an opportunity of continuing much or little to it, by fixing the amount of each single shear at the small sum of five shillings.

Farents especially are reminded that the undertaking provides me opportunity for investment which may be advantageously used by them on bahalf of their children, as there can be no doubt that the incitution will be successful as a Permanent Middel Ledering House after it has served its temporary purpose as a Visitory.

Hotel, and the shareholders will possess a valuable freehold property in perpetuity. THE undersigned is open to discuss the question of baby sprinkling with any elergyman or layman in New South Wales.
